

Purpose and Structure of Government

1. What was the result of the “state of nature” game? Who survived? Who perished?
2. Is there any way to make sure all players survive?
3. Who is in charge in a “state of nature”?
4. What is one advantage and one disadvantage of a society in a “state of nature”?
5. According to “evolutionary theory,” why do people form governments?
6. What are the 5 ways a government can maintain power? Provide a historical example for two.
7. How does the “Divine Right” theory claim a leader can maintain control?
8. Define “social contract.”
9. Give one example of the social contract theory.
10. What four characteristics make a place an official nation? (also called nation-state)
11. What are the three main functions of modern governments?
12. Identify the three different ways to structure government. For each – either copy the definition OR draw the diagram that shows how the system is organized.

Purpose and Structure of Government

1. What was the result of the “state of nature” game? Who survived? Who perished?
2. Is there any way to make sure all players survive?
3. Who is in charge in a “state of nature”?
4. What is one advantage and one disadvantage of a society in a “state of nature”?
5. According to “evolutionary theory,” why do people form governments?
6. What are the 5 ways a government can maintain power? Provide a historical example for two.
7. How does the “Divine Right” theory claim a leader can maintain control?
8. Define “social contract.”
9. Give one example of the social contract theory.
10. What four characteristics make a place an official nation? (also called nation-state)
11. What are the three main functions of modern governments?
12. Identify the three different ways to structure government. For each – either copy the definition OR draw the diagram that shows how the system is organized.

Purpose and Structure of Government

1. What was the result of the “state of nature” game? Who survived? Who perished?
2. Is there any way to make sure all players survive?
3. Who is in charge in a “state of nature”?
4. What is one advantage and one disadvantage of a society in a “state of nature”?
5. According to “evolutionary theory,” why do people form governments?
6. What are the 5 ways a government can maintain power? Provide a historical example for two.
7. How does the “Divine Right” theory claim a leader can maintain control?
8. Define “social contract.”
9. Give one example of the social contract theory.
10. What four characteristics make a place an official nation? (also called nation-state)
11. What are the three main functions of modern governments?
12. Identify the three different ways to structure government. For each – either copy the definition OR draw the diagram that shows how the system is organized.